

Associate Members

micreo

Products ... Micreo develops products for the ultra-high data rate, long-haul, fiber optic communications market. We possess the necessary design skills and manufacturing processes to be able to achieve the crucial electronic/photonic interface required for these products.

---

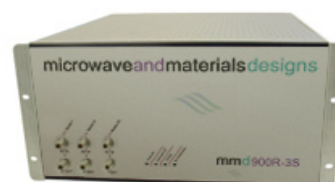

Cleveland Biosensors is a diagnostics company that has created it's own device platform - the BioFiniti sensor.

BioFiniti targets high-end diagnostics in point-of-care markets, where rapidity, excellent sensitivity and ability to quantify target concentrations distinguish it from other platforms.

BioFiniti uses robust, mass-manufactured, disposable microchips to perform a wide range of analyses. Microchips have been demonstrated to handle process-water, whole blood and urine.

---

microwaveandmaterialsdesigns

M&MD is dedicated to delivering a superior mobile user experience by assuring significantly higher levels of voice and data network performance than is provided today by standard microwave filters.